"Semi-Targeted" Programming

Respected Management Councilmembers,

The volume of "semi-targeted" events that have been brought before the Board of directors has greatly increased over the past few years.

The program standards to not currently speak to this increasingly common situation, leaving the board to act on foggy precedent when approving these events. It is clear that we need rectify this situation for fairness's sake and also to set up programmers for success as they consider what kinds of programs will best serve the needs of Western students in the future.

I would like to ask you all to help the board come up with language that will be usable for programmers and board members alike. We need to ensure that we are respecting the need/demand for these kinds of events while also retaining access for as many students as possible (since everyone pays S&A fees).

Definition of "Semi-Targeted": An event whose final attendance is not targeted, but may have targeted elements such as cast selection, (for example: Vagina Memoirs, The Queer Experience etc.)

Thank you all!
